Members of the British Potato Trade Association

Dear Member

BPTA Terms and Conditions for the Purchase and Sale of Seed Potatoes

Council would like to remind members of their letter of 26th April 2012 in which they advised members that the Council of the British Potato Trade Association has adopted new 'Terms and Conditions for the Purchase and Sale of Seed Potatoes'.

In that letter advice was given on how members could ensure that the new Terms and Conditions were properly incorporated into contracts with your suppliers and customers. It has been brought to Council's attention that some members in their contract documentation, websites and other media are still referring to the 2006 (or earlier) versions which have now been withdrawn. Please check carefully all your references to BPTA terms and conditions and ensure that incorporation of the new Terms and Conditions is absolute. Failure to do so may have unwanted consequences should any dispute arise between you and your supplier or customer.

Yours sincerely

Charles W Greenslade
Secretary
