Roythornes – BPTA Legal Advice Line

01775 842508

The BPTA is delighted to announce the launch of the BPTA Legal Advice Line, provided by Roythornes Solicitors.

Roythornes Solicitors are one of the leading agricultural law firms in the UK and have been advisers to the BPTA for a number of years. Their experience of the industry is backed up by sound commercial knowledge and they have a well deserved reputation.

Some of the areas in which they can help members include:

- Contract disputes
- Property transactions and disputes
- Debt recovery
- Employment law advice
- Joint Ventures, Producer Organisations and partnerships
- International trade

How the scheme works in three simple steps

1. Call the legal advice line on 01775 842508, explaining you are a BPTA member and giving an outline of your question. Alternatively e-mail sarahwhitehurst@roythornes.co.uk with the same details.

2. Your contact details will be taken by the call handler, and passed on to the most appropriate member of the Roythornes team, who will call you back to offer you advice.

3. The advice line offers up to half an hours' free telephone advice – usually plenty enough to resolve most issues. It is open 9am-5pm Monday to Friday (excluding bank holidays).

We hope members take advantage of the advice line. In many cases an early call can save much larger problems arising at later stages.
